19 Americans Captured By Soldiers of Huerta Threatened With Death

Monterey in Hands of Constitutionals After Five Days' Battle, According to Report Given
Out at the Rebel Headquarters at Matamoras Amid Outburst of Enthusiasm.

Chicago, April 24.—Twenty refugees, nineteen Americans and one British subject, have been taken prisoners by Huerta's forces and are believed to have been executed by a firing squad, according to a telegram received from Secretary Bryan tonight by Dr. Herbert A. Parkyn, president of a Mexican plantation company.

Mr. Bryan's telegram follows:

"The following, dated April 24, at 10 a. m., and received from the American consul at Vera Cruz, is sent for your information:

"Am just reliably informed soldiers stopped train in vicinity of Tierra Blanca, on Vera Cruz-Isthmus railroad, taking following prisoners:

"W. Mangum, railroad superintendent; Elliott, engineer; Riley and Hart, conductors. All are Americans. These persons are taken to Cordoba or Orizaba and believed ordered shot.

"Some eighteen or more Americans left for Tierra Blanca. C. B. Herron, secretary Isthmus railroad, wife and four children; J. O. Cook, chief engineer; John Flight, conductor; J. F. Langston and wife; Kerwin, engineer, and Mr. and Mrs. George Macomber."

"Same soldiers stopped at Hacienda Motzorongo on same railroad taking prisoners Edward Wunsch and son, Sidney; A. M. Turner, secretary of the Hacienda Motzorongo, all Americans; also a man named Boyd, British subject. All taken to Cordoba or Orizaba. It is reliably stated that these prisoners may be executed. Admirals Fletcher and Badger have this information before them.

(Signed) "BRYAN."

MONTEREY REPORTED CAPTURED.

Brownsville, Texas, April 24.—"Monterey is in the hands of the constitutionalists, after a five days' battle," was an official announcement late today from constitutionalist headquarters in Matamoras, accompanied by the ringing of bells and an outburst of rebel enthusiasm throughout the city.

Wotherspoon, Brigadier General Liggett, president of the war college, and Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance. The sessions are behind closed doors. This board will determine the general plan of the campaign in Mexico and in Mexican waters.

GIRL TAKES POISON AFTER SHE INVITES FRIENDS TO FUNERAL DIES IN AMBULANCE

Miss Helene Eberhardt, the pretty 17-year-old cashier in Winnie Davis Ice Cream Parlor, Swallows Contents of Bottle of Carbolic Acid.

After repeatedly asking her co-employees in the Winnie Davis ice cream parlor, at 217 Peachtree street, last night, if they would come to her funeral if she should die, Miss Helene Eberhardt, the pretty 17-year-old cashier, swallowed the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid about 10 o'clock, and died in the ambulance on the way to the Grady hospital.

Several prominent people, returning home out Peachtree from the downtown amusements, gathered at the scene of the tragedy and witnessed the placing of the prostrate form of the girl in the ambulance.

Miss Eberhardt was employed as cashier at the ice cream parlors for the last two weeks. At 1 o'clock Friday she relieved the day cashier for dinner hour. During this time she asked DeWitt Johnston, the soda fountain clerk, if he would come to her funeral if she should die.

Johnston stated that Miss Eberhardt took three soft drinks in short order during the dinner hour between 1 and 2 o'clock, and that he became alarmed and told her that she would kill herself drinking so much.

the United States Without Declaration of War.

Washington, April 24.—While the attention of the American government for the most part today was concentrated on restoring order at Vera Cruz and expediting the departure of Americans from Mexico, a watchful eye was trained on the transcontinental boundary between Mexico and the United States for any signs of hostility from Mexican constitutionalists.

President Wilson and his cabinet had a long meeting, after which optimism was conspicuously apparent, both in their demeanor and informal discussion of the situation. There was no particular development to which the feeling of hopefulness that real war would be averted could be traced, but General Villa's friendly pronouncement, it was admitted, had impressed many officials here with the possibility that the constitutionalists would remain neutral while the American government sought reparation from Huerta.

Other officials were not so sanguine and the army moved with precision and swiftness to protect the American boundary and reinforce the expeditionary force of marines and blue jackets at Vera Cruz.

AMERICAN CHARGE AND FAMILY SAFE

Nelson O'Shaughnessy and Consul General Shanklin
Arrive in Vera Cruz From Mexico City.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge at Mexico City, his family and staff, and Consul General Shanklin and his staff, arrived in Vera Cruz from the Mexican capital tonight.

Under date of 8:30 p. m. today Rear Admiral Fletcher, at Vera Cruz, reported to the navy department: "Upon telegraphic request of Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, the train left here at 3 o'clock conveying Captain Huse, Lieutenant Fletcher and Ensign P. Todd to meet him. It also carried the family of General Mas and about 350 Mexicans. At about five miles out, track was found torn up for about three-quarters of a mile. On the other side of the breach in the track was a train from Mexico City conveying the charge d'affaires and others as follows:

"Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, child and maid, Captain Burnside, Lieutenant Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. McKenna, Consul General Shanklin and staff. The train was in charge of Chief of Staff General Corona, two aides and an escort of about fifty odd troops. The rumor has reached Mexico City that no Mexicans were allowed to leave Vera Cruz, and it was reported that any more Americans to leave Mexico City, Mexicans in Vera Cruz have been allowed to leave at will, but none have been able to go out on trains. Captain Huse was directed to lay emphasis on this fact and to express a strong desire to send daily trains to convey Mexicans from Vera Cruz to meet trains bringing foreigners from Mexico City. General Corona promised to bring it to the attention of Huerta."

Consulate Blown Up; Orgy of Destruction Leaves Town in Ruins

Mexican Troops Fire Across Boundary Into Laredo, Texas, but Are Forced to Flee After Several Brisk Skirmishes With Border Patrol.
International Bridges Escape an Attempt to Dynamite Them.

Laredo, Texas, April 24.—Nuevo Laredo, the thriving Mexican border town opposite this place, was in ruins tonight, devastated by dynamite and fire set by Mexican federal soldiers who late today began an orgy of destruction which did not end until they were forced to flee southward before the guns of the American border patrol.

Two Mexicans are known to have been killed by the United States troops and several were seen to fall when a machine gun platoon from Fort McIntosh got into action. Several brisk skirmishes between the Americans and Mexicans were fought in quick succession as the Mexicans, their troop trains ready to pull out of the burning city, began an indiscriminate fire across the international boundary, but tonight there was no evidence that their shooting had been effective.

Property damage in Nuevo Laredo will reach $500,000. Among the buildings destroyed were the United States consulate, municipal buildings, postoffice, theater, the flour mill, one of the largest in this section of the southwest; the railroad shops of the Mexican National railway, and other smaller structures.

At a late hour tonight the fire was still burning, with no chance that it would be controlled until everything inflammable had been wiped out. Kerosene and other combustibles, liberally used, added to the wreckage, which otherwise would not have been great, owing to the adobe construction largely used.

AMERICANS RULING CITY OF VERA CRUZ AND 5-MILE RADIUS

Five Divisions of Civil Administration Organized.
Effort Made to Have Mexicans Head Departments.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 24.—Five divisions of the civil administration were organized today—police, sanitary, harbor, finance and customs. An effort was made to put Mexicans at the heads of all departments, but as this was impossible, at least in two departments, American officers were assigned to the posts. They are Lieutenant Commander McNeely, of the battleship Louisiana, who was appointed chief of police, and the fleet paymaster, who was made collector of customs.

An effort still is being made to get Mexicans to act as heads of the other departments, but if this is found to be impossible, Americans will be placed in charge of all. An American will be made inspector over each department headed by a Mexican.

Police provisions call for a continuance of the patrol of Americans, although Mexicans have been invited to co-operate in the organization of a native force. The customs receipts, it is said, may be placed to the credit of the United States.

Close scrutiny will be maintained over all newspapers and other publications and no editorial comment concerning the American occupation or

ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE TWO BRIDGES FAILS.

There was no property loss in Laredo. Both international bridges are safe, though efforts to dynamite them resulted in the death of two men engaged in the undertaking. One Mexican was shot by a sharpshooter from the top of the water tower. The Mexican was trying to reach the end of the international foot and wagon bridge. Another was killed when he tried to blow up the Mexican end of the international railroad bridge. American soldiers are constantly stationed at the American end to prevent such an attempt.

When the Mexican soldiers finally departed order was quickly restored in Laredo, but strong guards remain throughout the city. A serious problem was furnished immigration and city authorities by the presence here of hundreds of refugees from the burning city who had to be furnished food and shelter.

The federal garrison evacuated Nuevo Laredo yesterday, supposedly going to Saltillo or Monterrey. With their departure the busy little city, ordinarily of about 7,000 population, was virtually deserted.

AMERICAN CONSULATE BREAKS INTO FLAMES.

There was little excitement occasioned by the presence of the federalists until this afternoon. Smoke was seen issuing from some of the buildings around the plaza, the center of the town. The municipal building and the American consulate on opposite sides of the square broke into flame simultaneously. Next door to the consulate the postoffice, temporarily closed, also was seen to be burning and around the plaza smoke began to issue from the windows and roofs of other buildings.

A few minutes later a loud explosion wrecked several houses and the fire

THINKS AMERICA MUST ADMIT STATE OF WAR

Paris, April 24.—American operations at Vera Cruz are likely to raise international difficulties, according to a London dispatch to The Times, unless they are regularized by admitting the existing of a state of war. It is pointed out that France endeavored to blockade Chinese ports in 1884 without declaring war, and that Great Britain protested successfully.

Another case put forward is that when Great Britain, at the outbreak of the Boer war, asserted that the operations were of a police nature against rebels, she was obliged to change her position when German vessels carrying contraband were detained.

DID NOT CONFESS TO GIRL'S MURDER,
SAYS JIM CONLEY

Three New Affidavits in Hearing on New Trial Petition by Leo Frank Necessitate Postponement.

JIM CONLEY CONFESSED
GUILT, SAY WITNESSES

Preacher and Negress Swear to Admission—Another Witness Tells of Seeing Girl Leave Frank's Office.

Jim Conley, the negro accused yesterday of confessing to the murder of Mary Phagan, made a sweeping denial last night to The Constitution, and declared that his counsel would be able to present evidence which would prove that the accusations were absolutely false.

The negro's statement was made to a reporter for The Constitution through Attorney William M. Smith, Conley's attorney. Smith was requested to ask certain questions having direct bearing on the affidavits submitted before Judge Ben Hill by Frank's defense, in which two witnesses accuse Conley of having admitted the Phagan crime.

He declares that the negro in Conley stated through Smith that the affidavits were false in every respect, and that he had never known Annie Maude Carter, the negress, who says Conley, while in Fulton jail, confessed to her, except to see her occasionally while she was imprisoned in the Tower. He says they rarely spoke, and then only to exchange greetings.

Will Establish Alibi.

Conley also stated that he would be able to show an alibi to disprove the charge of Rev. C. B. Ragdale, the minister who has made an affidavit to the effect that he overheard Conley tell another negro in an alley near the Terminal station on the Monday night following the murder, that he had killed a girl at the pencil factory. Attorney Smith was asked by the reporter to make a statement regarding the new evidence which so startled those present at the hearing for a retrial, being held before Judge Ben Hill, which was adjourned Friday morning until next Friday morning, to give the prosecution time to form a counter showing to the new developments.

His answer was:

"In the words of Champ Clark, I can only say: 'Shoo fly! Don't bother me!'"

The effect that the two strongest pieces of evidence introduced by attorneys for the defense will have on Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's fight to prevent a new trial for Leo Frank will, in all probability, cause a second delay in the re-trial hearing that is now in progress before Judge Ben Hill.

The solicitor requested adjournment of the hearing yesterday morning so that he would have ample time and opportunity to gather evidence with which to make a counter showing against three new affidavits that were presented by Frank's attorneys Friday morning.

These affidavits are from witnesses whose connection with the case was not made public until their testimony was revealed to Judge Hill. Two of them—a minister and a negro woman, swear they heard Jim Conley confess to the murder of Mary Phagan. The third witness states she was in the pencil factory at the time Mary Phagan entered, and that she saw the girl depart from Frank's office and go down the stairs to the first floor.

Work of Detective Burns.

These affidavits were introduced into the retrial motion as amendments. A strong fight was made against them by the solicitor, but was defeated. Both phases of the new evidence were unearthed by Detective William J. Burns.

Solicitor Dorsey would have nothing to say for publication. He would express himself in no manner regarding the Conley confession affidavits. He intimated that the prosecution would insist upon further postponement next Friday so that his men could make exhaustive investigations into the new affidavits.

Annie Maude Carter, a negress, who was once a prisoner in the Tower in which Conley is held, made the most startling of the three affidavits. She testifies that the negro prisoner had made love to her and had wanted to marry her, and that he had confessed to having slain Mary Phagan.

She swears that the negro went into thorough details of the murder, and that he exonerated Leo Frank completely. At first, however, she states in the affidavit, Conley sought to make her believe that he and Frank were both implicated in the murder, and that both had attacked the girl after he (Conley) had strangled her into unconsciousness.

Had Killed the Girl.

The affidavit from the minister—Rev. C. B. Ragdale, of Kirkwood—tells of an alleged conversation he overheard on the Monday night after Mary Phagan's death between Jim Conley and another negro in an alley near the pencil factory building. He swears that Conley told his black companion that he had got into trouble at the pencil plant—had killed a girl.

Conley's companion, the minister says in his document, asked Conley if anyone was in the building at the time Conley committed the crime, and Conley answered that Frank might have been in the place, but he thought not.

The third sensation is an affidavit attested to by Mrs. Maud Bailey, who swears she saw Mary Phagan come to the second floor of the pencil factory about five minutes after 12, on the day of the tragedy, go into Frank's office, remain a moment or so, emerge and then go down the stairway to the first floor. She also swears that, as she came up the stairs upon entering the building, she saw Jim Conley sitting on a box near the foot of the steps.

Mrs. Bailey had gone to the factory, she swears, with her mother, Mrs. Mae Tharvest, and that she waited on the second floor near Frank's office by the time clock, while her mother went upstairs to the next floor. While she was doing so, she saw a girl—whom she describes as being young, wearing short dresses and a lavender dress, but does not say was Mary Phagan—enter and went into Frank's office, after which she saw her emerge and go down the stairs.

The affidavit was directly after the girl had departed.

Evidence Corroborated.

The affidavit made by the Kirkwood preacher is supported in part by an affidavit sworn by R. L. Barbour, of Temple, Ga., who says he saw Rev. Ragdale enter the alley, followed by the two negroes, one of whom he identifies as Jim Conley.

The negroes' affidavit, in telling of the alleged confession of Conley, says that Conley told her he had written the notes for the purpose of trying to disprove the charges against him, and that he had put them in her bosom. He admitted, she says, prying the staple from the rear door of the factory basement and going into the alley, from whence he went to a nearby saloon.

The woman also says she was at police headquarters Thursday, and that she had taken the affidavit from her to Chief Lanford and Detective Chew, Ing and Sturdivant. But she says, she told them anything she saw or heard, and that she knew they were going to protect Conley and didn't want to tell them all she knew.

Solicitor Fights Amendments.

The hearing before Judge Hill was adjourned shortly Friday morning. When the counsel for Frank proposed to amend their motion with the new affidavits, the judge asked the move was made by the solicitor. He said he would not object to the affidavits presented to Judge Hill. There were a few heated words from Attorney Barbour, but the judge ordered Dorsey, the senior counsel said:

"Mr. Dorsey has no right to talk about the investigation."

Here he pointed an accusing finger in the direction of Dorsey. "Just look at this bunch that is surrounding him," he said, pointing to the crowd of reporters.

Eight of the picked men from police headquarters, including John Black, gathered around the solicitor. Dorsey, however, never spoke a word.

A thorough probe of the three affidavits will be made by the investigators and to Dorsey's staff would talk.

AMERICANS RULING
CITY OF VERA CRUZ

news regarding the movement of troops will be permitted.

No Attack Expected.

Rear Admiral Badger, in a report to the navy department tonight, said that his forces were so strongly posted that no attack from the Mexicans was expected at present. He said there had been no further cases of violence, and that the wounded were doing well.

The commandant of the San Juan de Uloa fortress, in the inner harbor, dressed in full uniform, called on Rear Admiral Fletcher today and was granted permission to take supplies to the women and children refugees in the fort.

The battleship Louisiana sailed for Galveston today to convey the army transports to Vera Cruz.

Conditions Almost Normal.

American marines and bluejackets controlled today a radius of at least five miles around the city of Vera Cruz, in which normal conditions had been virtually restored.

Outposts were pushed farther out in a southerly direction early this morning to the water supply station at Tejar and marines and sailors were dispatched there to take over the control of all pipe lines into the city. They took with them oil fuel to run the pumping plant.

To the west and northwest, Captain Smedley Butler, with his marines, are stationed. Thus Rear Admiral Fletcher commands all the approaches to the city.

Within the city sniping had almost ceased this morning. A close watch for sharpshooters was kept up all night by patrols who marched through the streets. Orders had been issued that all civilians should keep within their residences after 7:30 o'clock in the evening and these were strictly obeyed. As a result the night was quiet.

American Refugees Leave.

Americans, numbering about 300, mostly women and children, left for Galveston on board the Esperanza and arrangements have been made for removing from the coast towns as soon as possible all Americans who can be induced to leave.

More than 1,000 Americans are reported to have left Tampico, where they were urgently advised to depart. The Chester will be sent to Frontera, Coahuila, and other coast towns to urge Americans there to be ready to embark on the Ward liner Monday, which is due here today from Havana.

Only three of the American wounded are in a critical condition, according to the report received from the soldiers. These are First-Class Fireman H. Pulliam, Ordinary Seaman E. G. Wright and Private Jeremiah G. Peoples.

The dead have been embalmed and their bodies are lying on board the Solace ready to be sent north.

Naval surgeons say that the majority of the wounded men will be able to report for duty in a short time.

Total Force 6,500 Men.

By tomorrow the total force on shore will probably reach 6,500 men.

The American forces are equipped with twelve machine guns and several 3-inch field pieces, which were taken to the front today.

Rear Admiral Fletcher's headquarters at the Terminal hotel are guarded by machine guns, while seven field pieces are held in reserve in the vicinity.

Over 250 Mexican sick and wounded were found in the San Sebastian hospital when it was inspected today by a navy surgeon. Forty dead were found in the mortuary. Conditions were so bad that navy surgeons were detailed to assist the hospital authorities.

The medical department today inspected the sanitary conditions of the city and opened negotiations with the Mexican health officials, in the hope of inducing them to return to their work. With Commander Herman G. Buickney, of the Prairie, appointed commander of the port, the American authorities today undertook the administration of the customs.

Rear Admiral Fletcher has begun the general supervision of the city. Very few of the former heads of the city departments have returned, and most of them seem to have left the city.

car lines also have resumed partial service.

Numbers of shops and restaurants were opened yesterday, and crowds walked about the streets and the open places. Except for the passing of an occasional patrol, the city seems to have resumed almost normal conditions.

Bands from the American fleet played yesterday and attracted large crowds. The idea of providing music for the people was suggested by Captain Rush, who only a few hours before had been directing the artillery and machine gun fire against the same people.

Large numbers of Mexicans called on Rear Admiral Fletcher today pleading for the release of friends and relatives who had been made prisoners. The almost invariable reply was that all whose innocence could be established would be released.

The number of prisoners taken was about 300, but many have already been released.

Refugees From Mexico City.

A refugee train of fourteen cars from Mexico City, carrying 150 Americans, 100 Germans, 300 Spaniards and Mexicans and 50 Englishmen, arrived here last evening.

The exodus from the capital was arranged through the joint action of British and German diplomatic officials with the war office. The train reached the Mexican outskirts at Toluca at noon, where it was detained for two hours while a search was made by the Mexicans for railroad officials, four of whom were arrested and held until General Maas, at Soledad, was communicated with and their release ordered.

About three miles from Vera Cruz, a section of track nearly a mile long was found torn up. The refugees carried their baggage to a train on the Vera Cruz end of the break, which the British, co-operating with the Americans, had sent out to meet the train from Mexico City.

A detachment of British marines, unarmed, acted as escort to the refugees on this last stage of their journey.

From the refugees it was learned that on Wednesday there was a repetition of street demonstrations by mobs such as had also occurred earlier in the week. The principal streets, an American flag was thrown to the ground in front of a press box.

A small gathering of Mexicans at the American embassy corner, Tuesday night, listened to speeches from street orators. The crowd, however, was orderly, probably because a heavy guard of police was on duty there.

Mob Tramples American Flag.

Mobs in the streets of Mexico City were trampling under foot the Stars and Stripes and were threatening American pedestrians when the refugee cars engaged under the auspices of the British and German consuls, left for Vera Cruz carrying some 500 fugitives of various nationalities.

The position of those American citizens left in the federal capital was regarded as critical. American charge d'affaires, Lieutenant Rowan, of the navy, and Captain William B. Burdette, of the army, were to leave on Thursday night for Manzanillo, a Pacific coast port, under special arrangement with Provisional President Huerta.

Immediately after the news of the landing of American bluejackets and marines at Vera Cruz was made known in the federal capital by extra editions of the local newspapers, crowds of students and government office employees began to gather.

By dusk a mob had been assembled in front of the American club, where they smashed windows and howled insults and threats at the American citizens inside, all of whom they threatened to assassinate.

An appeal to the governor of the federal district brought no protection, but not before the crowd had shattered many of the windows in the clubhouse and in adjoining properties belonging to Americans.

Until 2 o'clock in the morning bands of excited Mexicans marched through the streets singing the Mexican national anthem and shouting "Death to the Americans."

An American jewelry store was looted by the mob at midnight. The police looked on but took no action.

The American club, the leading American hotel, and the offices of The Mexican Herald were closed, owing to the threats of the mobs to burn them and murder their occupants.

The British, German and French in the federal capital were prepared at a moment's notice to gather in the previously arranged concentration districts, which had been provisionally withstood a siege.

Papers Tell of "Victories."

The newspapers, probably acting under the directions of General Huerta, issued many extra editions, in which they printed dispatches stating that El Paso, Laredo, Nogales and other places had been taken by the Mexicans.

Other dispatches announced that the federal troops had gained a great victory at Vera Cruz, where they expected to surround and drive the invaders into the sea.

The papers also declared that the battleship Louisiana had been sunk by Mexican torpedoes.

An alleged dispatch from the south said that Emiliano Zapata, the southern rebel, was coming to join forces with General Huerta.

All the American officials employed by the National Railroads and the Mexican Railroad company were immediately discharged by the government in order that no trains could be operated except under the supervision of the government. At the American embassy, orders were expected from the Mexican government that the arms and ammunition recently permitted to enter should be given up. This was in retaliation for the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American fleet. At 6 o'clock, on Wednesday evening, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, had not received his passport, but he was preparing to leave. The refugee train was twenty hours in making the journey from Mexico City to Vera Cruz.

While delays were many, there were no mishaps.

WHEN PATRIOTISM KINDLES.

One of the brighter lights of our world with Mexico comes from the action of the C. A. Evans camp of confederate veterans at Lumpkin, Ga. None of these survivors of the '60's is under 60 years of age. Yet they all join in a letter to President Wilson, in which they offer to "protect the dignity and honor of our beloved land."

Of course, the offer of these old men cannot, in the nature of things, be accepted. More youthful bodies and keener eyes are needed for our distasteful task in Mexico, and these will be available in abundance.

But it is the spirit of the tender from Stewart county that counts.

To quote the scriptures, these confederate veterans may be numbered among "they who came out of great tribulation."

They have known the horrors of war, the humiliation and the heartbreak of reconstruction.

Yet with them these fateful events become as negligible memories, ghosts of past trials, when the flag of their reunited country is subjected to indignity.

The Spanish-American war, with its commingling of the grayheads of blue and gray in warrior counsels, marked a far milestone in the welding of the sections.

The spirit of patriotism that flames into action the moment this nation is even remotely assailed, promises to achieve yet greater results in the final renationalization.

The mood of the veterans of Lumpkin is typical of the mood of the vanishing men in gray, wherever their lots may be cast.

It is refreshing to know that if we must assume an onerous and uncourted responsibility, the burden will be lightened by distinct compensations.

KEEPING CATTLE AT HOME.

The Georgia State Chamber of Commerce is calling the attention of trade boards and newspapers throughout the state to an editorial which recently appeared in The Constitution under the caption, "The Wrong Cattle Policy." Taking as its text the high price of meats in Bulloch county, due to the long-continued sale of native beef and breeding cattle, The Constitution emphasized the eventual unwisdom of such a course.

Commenting upon the editorial, the chamber of commerce thus addresses its correspondents:

The editorial in The Constitution this morning entitled "The Wrong Cattle Policy" is one of the most serious problems that confronts Georgia today. The sale of breeding cattle in the last year to people who carry the cattle beyond the state is alarming. Eventually, Georgia must pay the bill in high prices. It is not improbable that these purchases are being made by a secret combination which is seeking, ultimately, to control the meat supply. Please give this your earnest attention and such publicity as it deserves.

The issue is one of such seriousness as to deserve all the publicity and organized activity the press and trade boards of the state can command.

For years The Constitution has been preaching that Georgia offers conditions ideal to the creation of a livestock industry upon a scale almost commensurate with the revenues from cotton.

We have stressed the economic folly involved in Georgia, which should lead the eastern south in beef-raising, sending millions annually out of the state for meat products.

And here are many counties in Georgia disposing of their breeding cattle at the first opportunity, unmindful of the ultimate consequences of such a policy. Of course, the county that thus surrenders its cattle on the hoof, shortly afterward complains at paying a skyrocketing price for the same cattle as a finished market product. Some sacrifice will, of course, be required to insure that good Georgia stock shall stay on the farms, instead of being exported. The temptation for immediate profits is an enticing one, especially so to a farmer who may have difficulty in making both ends meet.

But the game is worth the candle. The bankers and the merchants and trade boards generally can help on the practical end of the proposition by co-operating to the end that the farmer's basis for collateral shall be broadened and he shall not be compelled to thrust cattle on the market upon terms that cannot constitute other than an ultimate loss to himself and to the community.

SMOKING AND WRITING.

Someone has been interviewing French academicians as to the effect of smoking upon literary composition. The results of the census range widely from enthusiastic commendation of the inspiration of "Lady Nicotine" to frank avowals that her devotees know they injure themselves when they indulge.

Once upon a time a writer of some experience, who also was an inveterate smoker, asked a capable physician if smoking were not a distinct aid to concentration of mental effort.

"Rot!" said the physician with some energy. "Whatever aid you get to composition is that of a purely mechanical nature. Pull your nose, twist your moustache, roll your ear-lobe, and you will secure enough outside stimulus to aid inspiration."

This may be true, and it may likewise be true that the writer who depends upon smoking to set his thinking machinery in motion is only pampering a habit. But enough men of literary importance have found assistance from tobacco to at least give the habit the sanction of vogue and precedent. It is even recorded that clergymen, hammering away at their prospective sermons at the midnight hour, have found that thought flows more freely when the soothing pipe or cigar is in the hand. Of course, no one would have the temerity to associate a cigarette with a clergyman.

At the last analysis, it all gets down to a matter of personal idiosyncrasy. With tobacco as with food, what is one man's meat is another's poison. While it is difficult to imagine Shakespeare polishing off a sonnet to the accompaniment of fragrant smoke clouds, it is easy to visualize lesser men coaxing stubborn Parnassus with a lusty, trusty pipe, or coming suddenly out of a tobacco reverie to plunge at pencil and paper with a flash of inspiration.

THE GOOD ROADS SMOKER.

The "smoker" held last night by the Automobile Club of Georgia is prophetic of still farther organized effort in behalf of good roads in Georgia.

Representative citizens from all over Georgia were in attendance.

The theme of the addresses was the commercial and economic value of good roads and how co-operation might best facilitate the movement.

A significant feature of the meeting was the tentative plan to interest farmers and their societies in organized good roads crusades.

For every automobilist who benefits from a smooth stretch of highway, twenty or thirty farmers reap dividends the year round.

The motive back of the growing demand for good roads is, after all, an economic one.

HURTFUL PARTISANSHIP.

The claims of Senator Borah to the effect that we are "in Mexico to stay," and that we are likely to "carry the flag as far south as Panama," are unjustified and full of mischief.

Borah uttered these sentiments in the debate over the resolution to appropriate $500,000 for the purpose of caring for refugees from Mexico.

His statements are calculated to give aid and conviction to those critics in Latin-America and Europe who have refused to accept the president's disclaimer of any designs on Latin-American territory. Such charges are particularly inappropriate at a time when the government is bending every effort to conciliate Latin-America, and when the countries comprising that political division are naturally suspicious of the United States.

Playing politics at a time like this is not a patriotic pastime.

Some of the popular novelists are going to the front. Here's hoping they will not be killed for their bad writing.

And George Bailey says that "Coal Blaze is the Huerta of South Carolina."

Huerta wants to go down to history. He'll go down in short order.

Cole Blease is ready to rush to Mexico and give an exhibition of fighting fire with fire.

Huerta is short of aeroplanes, but it's all up with him, anyway.

The Colonel hasn't heard the war news, or he wouldn't waste all that ammunition on the animals of the jungle.

A call for volunteers will give the progressive party a chance to hold the lime-light a little longer.

A 14-foot elephant was dug up in California; but it wasn't buried as deep as the G. O. P.'s.

Huerta will give special protection to the American movie picture men; and yet he's a fright on the films.

The Way to the Woods.
Oh, to leave the city
For the country ranch—
To join the barefoot
fellers
Wadin' in the branch!
To run to the river—
The old swimmin' hole,
Or sit an' watch the
noddin'
Or the hickory fishin'- pole!

The woodlands are callin':
"Come—come—come—
The river is singin':
"Live life today!
Why toll forever?
Leave all the strife;
Come where the birds sing—
Shake hands with Life!"

So I leave the city,
Faring far away,
To my soul I'm givin'
One more holiday.
Breathe of the flowers
Round the country ranch,
Joy of barefoot fellers
Wadin' in the branch!

Would Write War Songs.
The Sweet Singer of the Adams Express writes:
"Do you reckon there'll be any chance to sell a few war songs? 'Endurin' of the Spanish-American war I sold two, and have at least ten yards of songs left over, which I didn't sell, which could be changed to suit the trouble with Mexico. Here is a sample of my style:

"A soldier went into the war
'Thout knowin' what they fit him for;
Said he: 'I hear'n my country's call,
An' I will fight until I fall,
Er I don't git no pay at all."

"He fit an' fought, until one day
A bullet which was meant to slay,
Come whizzin' through the atmosphere
An' took off part of his left ear.
For war is cruel as kin be,
An' might have took a ear from me."

Briefs From Billville.
Quite a number of married men of this community are going to the war to get peace.

To show the restraint of our people, the Mexican who runs the hotel stand has not been molested; but he is giving more for a nickel now.

We get a good pension from the Spanish-American war. Now, if we only can work one out of the Latin trouble we may end as a retired capitalist.

Of course there are patriots in our midst, but every time there is a call for volunteers to help till the soil there's an exodus to the tall timber. Hope the government will be more successful this time.

DISTRACTING NOISES.
The Good Times Train.
I.
Waitin' there, in the shine an' rain,
For the whistle clear of the Good Times Train.

An' the fields an' the valleys tell us true:
"She's speedin' on o'er the rails to you!
Oh, you have not tolled and hoped in vain—
Welcome now to the Good Times Train!"

II.
"She tarried long on her whistle's late,
But she'll land an' her freight at the Good Times Gate;
A world of joys so bright an' new
That the world itself will envy you.
Speedin' on through the shine an' rain,
Welcome now to the Good Times Train!"

III.
The Village Deacon stopped on his way to the postoffice to say to Bert Walker:
"In our community, which is like all towns great or small, the primrose path is a broad, smooth, gayly colored thoroughfare that runs right down through the center of the village. It is familiar to every man, woman and child in town. Those who trip along that primrose path are always in plain sight. They may keep in the shade of the trees that line the sides of the path, and delude themselves with the idea that the throngs on the outside can't see them, but they are only fooling themselves."

IV.
When the war-bunder wailed:
No telling when they'll cease;
The boys are off for battle:
For sale: One Dove of Peace."

V.
What George Will Do.
George Bailey gets his readers right in the following paragraph:
"The bonehead subscriber of Port Arthur wants to know if we expect to indulge in a dash across the border. If we get across the border, we expect to omit the dashes and say it right spank out if there are no ladies or ministers around."

VI.
Banners of the Cors.
We hear the war-bunder beatin'
The trouble to begin,
But the corn waves its banners,
An' that's the field we'll win!

VII.
An' heed this lesson night an' morn,
Ye men of every station:
It takes "the army of the fishin' pole"
To feed a fightin' nation.

VIII.
The Obliging Railroad.
"The railroad cut off the left leg of our leading novelist," says The Whitest Courier, "and he got enough damage money to enable him to quite writin', which is not only a good thing for him, but for the community. Oh, that the railroads would cut off some more legs of some more writers and make 'em rich enough to give their readers a rest!"

IX.
Fisherman's Song.
The fish brigade is the one I'll jine,
A shady nook by a stream for mine,
For the weather's right an' the fishin' fine,
An' the big sun says, "Good mornin'!"

X.
Run, little towhead, dig the bait,
Don't swing there on the garden gate,
For the catfish says: "Is breakfast late?"
An' I'll feed him fine this mornin'!

XI.
Come down there where the waters swish,
For the holiday you will get as well;
It'll be hard work for to string the fish,
Oh, they're bitin' fine this mornin'!

XII.
His Blessings.
Summing up his blessings a Georgia philosopher says:
"The Lord has been good to us. He has made us thankful for what we received and has faithfully kept us out of the hands of a receiver."

XIII.
The Wise One.
One who has no faith in weather predictions advises:
"Don't ever lose yer reason
By a mockin'bird's sweet sing:
If you're goin' to the picnic
Take yer overcoat along!"

All Along the Line With George Fitch

PONCE DE LEON.

Ponce de Leon was a Spaniard who hung around the court as a boy about 450 years ago, went to war now and then and gradually accumulated a substantial pull.

In those days this was regarded as a green scandal, and a disgusting rumor of factory or organizing a trust and Ponce de Leon could probably have snatched off a dukedom before he died if he had been content to remain around Madrid. But he was adventurous and when Christopher Colombo, a man of not half his education and influence in court, came rolling home from some-where west and south of Madrid, Ponce de Leon had discovered a continent or two, Ponce de Leon determined to get into the discovering game himself. He, therefore, got busy and wrote the help of his friends who all recommended him, he got the appointment as governor of New Spain, and sailed for America in 1502. In 1510 he became governor of Porto Rico, and introduced the halberd, spear and rapier of progress into the Indians with great vigor. He civilized the entire island so thoroughly that it did not recover from the operation until 1588.

By the time Ponce de Leon became governor he was a very great man. But he was not satisfied. The gentle Indians could not fight the Spaniards, but they usually got even with them by telling stories about strange rich lands to the west, in which he acted as adept as modern land agents. He hinted to Leon that somewhere beyond Cuba there was a land which had a miraculous fountain that conferred eternal youth on all who bathed in it. This greatly excited Ponce de Leon, who knew that when a Spaniard courtier became bald-headed and toothless, he stood no show at all, and he decided to fit out an expedition, while the Indians were still telling their whips and smiled contentedly.

Ponce de Leon discovered Florida and wandered all over it. He fought mosquitoes, water moccasins, alligators, Indians and bathed religiously in every pool of water which he found. But every morning he felt two years older and when he returned to Porto Rico he was a decrepit old man, his malaria ruined complexion and wept for joy. He soon became an old man and died from a poisoned arrow in Cuba at the age of sixty-one.

Ponce de Leon was unfortunate in discovering Florida before the Palm Beach hotels and the orange groves were installed and he had to put up with perpetual youth in that region instead of in the complexion parlors of New York.

THE HIPPOPOTAMUS.

The hippopotamus is a large portable obstruction to navigation which flourishes in African rivers and makes them more exciting than American streams even when the latter are complicated with racing motor boats.

The hippopotamus is a big cousin of the hog. He weighs a couple of tons and displaces about six feet of water. He lives in the muddy African rivers only coming out to wallow blithely through the mud, swamps and swamps, feeding as he goes. One native crowd hardly makes a full meal for a hippopotamus—which is one reason why he is not mentioned with affection in African circles.

The hippopotamus was designed by nature in a frivolous and playful mood and certainly has much to complain about. He is less ornamental than a gargoyle and is very inconvenient to himself in many ways. He is fat and round with large short legs, a small tail, a Harveyized hide and an immense humorous face composed mostly of mouth. When the hippopotamus opens his huge mouth to its fullest extent he looks like a train, and he is not a bad one either. He carefully paddles their canoes into the open mouth of a hippopotamus have found great difficulty in wriggling out from between his large and straggling teeth.

The hippo has small red eyes and a big wrinkled neck. He is not good for much except to capture and bring to America to be exhibited in the greatest shows on earth. Nothing is more pathetic than to watch a hippopotamus who has been brought up in a mile-wide river, trying to squeeze himself into an 8 by 10 foot tank which is filled with water and is morning from a hose by a tired circus hand.

The hippopotamus is another example of a badly located blessing. In Africa he is a most useful animal, but in America he is a nuisance. If every Mississippi river steambot could carry three or four hippos, the problem of navigation would be solved. Whenever the steamer encountered a sand bar the hippos could be driven into bath. This would raise the water enough to float the steamer over the bar after which the noble beasts could be put to rest. A few hippos along the Mississippi would save hundreds of millions in rivers and harbor appropriations.

EUGENICS.

It takes a brave man to talk about Eugenics and a still braver one to listen. Eugenics is the science of producing better races by different methods. It is being followed in this country. One crowd brings up children scientifically and the other brings up parents. One crowd takes the babies after they are born and perfects them according to the best modern knowledge. The other crowd takes the prospective parents and puts them through a stock judging. If they are good enough to be parents they are allowed to marry. If not, they are only allowed to live and this is regarded as somewhat of a concession.

The latter is the real Eugenics system, the former being only the old-fashioned job of bringing up children. The Eugenists have the greatest faith in heredity. They believe that when heredity and environment meet the latter goes to the mat for the former in the first round. They believe that by allowing only perfect men and women to marry, only perfect babies will arrive thereafter and that the feeble-minded, the physically gods and goddesses immune to chickenpox and appendicitis, and able to run thirty miles an hour while chasing a street car.

Some states have already begun the process of perfecting their citizens by demanding physical examinations before issuing marriage certificates. But the real third degree Eugenists go farther than that. If they have their way, the thin, puny poet and statesman will be given the coarse guffaw when he asks permission to marry and the woman who catches cold ease in the winter and hasn't a single Venus de Milo measure-ment will be sent off to the Old Maids' home at the age of eighteen.

Eugenics, if made mandatory, would produce splendid Americans. Unfortunately if put into effect at the present time about the only men who would generally be eligible to marry would be prize fighters who are ravishingly beautiful of form. Still, the statesmen, inventors and scholars of the country might work up to the measurements some day if the feeble-minded are in love with some specimen of perfect health.

Tobacco for Hiccoughs.

(From The London Globe.)
In a Russian medical journal, Dr. G. Tatevoff draws attention to the excellent service which may be obtained from the ordinary snuff tobacco as a means for cutting short hiccoughs. He relates an instructive case of a patient with some chronic chest disease, accompanied by violent cough attacks, in whom the latter used to be followed by extremely obstinate hiccoughs.

The common remedies (including cocaine) failing to exercise any controlling influence on the most distressing symptom, Dr. Tatevoff at last decided to give a trial to the said old-fashioned popular means, making the patient inhale each expiration thoroughly snuff into his nose a pinchful of the powder until the appearance of lively sneezing. From the first treatment the effect was truly brilliant, the hiccough subsiding as if by magic.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

JUDGE NAT E. HARRIS IN RACE.

With the definite announcement of Judge Nat E. Harris, all eyes are now turned on south Georgia in anticipation of the probable action of Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, who has been prominently mentioned as a gubernatorial candidate for the past two weeks.

The Macon Telegraph of Friday morning is authority for the statement that Judge Harris has definitely decided to make the race and it is generally understood that his formal announcement will be forthcoming in a day or two. He has written several friends in Atlanta, practically assuring them that he would run.

Little is known of Judge Thomas' intentions. When he was in Atlanta last week he stated that he had every desire to make the race, but that he would not jump into the contest without mature deliberation. He stated that he wanted to look over the situation carefully before announcing his plans. Just what figure the announcement of Judge Harris will cut in the plans of Judge Thomas remains to be seen.

Still another interesting factor is W. H. Burwell, of Hancock, speaker of the house. Mr. Burwell has had the matter under consideration for some two weeks or more and he is said to be "almost persuaded." Should Judge Thomas decline to make the race, it seems assured that Mr. Burwell's announcement will be promptly forthcoming.

W. J. Harris, director of the census, will make the race, his friends say, and his formal announcement may come early next week.

With J. Randolph Anderson and Dr. L. G. Hardman openly running, and Nat E. Harris, W. H. Burwell, Judge W. E. Thomas and W. J. Harris practically assured, it looks like the field is going to be the largest in the history of Georgia politics.

FULLBRIGHT TO MAKE THE RACE FOR SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Henry J. Fullbright, of Burke, member of the house and candidate for re-election, was in Atlanta Friday in connection with the meeting of the Western and Atlantic commission. Mr. Fullbright announced that he would make the race for speaker of the house at the next session of the legislature, provided he was returned and things shaped up properly.

WANTS PARDON SO HE CAN FIGHT.

OFFERS TO GO TO FRONT IN MEXICO
Governor Slaton receives many unique communications during the day's work, but here is one that stands out from the rest with a touch of pathos:

"Honorable Governor John M. Slaton—Dear Sir: I write you in regard to myself, to see if you will grant me a pardon or parole on the following conditions: that I enlist in the regular army for four years and go to Mexico and fight for my country. I have been serving good on three years in the chain-gang and my sentence was eighteen years for manslaughter. I was connected with the killing of a negro in Spalding county. My confinement has worked a great hardship on my wife and eight children. I know the pay in the army is small, but I would help my family. Hoping you will grant me a parole and give me a chance to help my family, I beg to remain.
"Respectfully yours,
"T. A. McCULLOUGH."

FULLBRIGHT TO CHAMPION ANTI-PISTOL TOTTING BILL

Hon. H. J. Fullbright, representative from Burke county, who was in the city yesterday, conferred with William J. Lowenstein, chairman of the public safety committee, in regard to the passage of the bill for the next session of the legislature, regulating the sale of pistols and pistol cartridges, in which Mr. Fullbright has been considerably interested.

It was suggested that the public safety

The Business Situation.

(From The Saturday Evening Post.)
Business in the United States, on the whole, is not so good as it was early last March. Few shrewd observers at that time expected it would be. Steel mills were then running at full capacity—on orders received some months before. They are now running at not much over half their capacity.

Railroad earnings of late have shown some falling off. Bank clearings the country over have been less than they were last year. Building operations show a decline. That there will be some further recession is quite probable.

It is important, however, to remember that this condition is practically world-wide—and so are the chief causes of it. The cause that by far overshadows all others is the scarcity of fluid capital—the world is simply hard up for cash. This cause developed out of conditions with which domestic politics had absolutely nothing to do. The art of politics consists partly in telling plausible lies. There is always a wordy effort to attribute the business condition of the country—whether good or bad—to political causes, though nine times out of ten politics has nothing to do with it either way. This is one of the times when committee engage actively in co-operating with the different members of the general assembly by submitting a copy of the bill, which is considered to be both practicable as well as constitutional, and at the same time reasonable.

Mr. Fullbright is one of the strong men in the legislature, and Chairman Lowenstein feels as though the bill is entrusted in the proper hands.

COUNTY OFFICERS ARE NAMED IN CAMPBELL COUNTY PRIMARY

Fairburn, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Campbell county democratic primary today, with two districts yet to be held, resulted as follows: J. H. McClure, clerk superior court; G. E. Jenkins, sheriff; Warren Watkins, tax collector; C. J. Short, tax collector; J. W. Steed, surveyor; Emanuel Hataway, treasurer; J. A. Henderson, coroner.

CANDIDATES ARE PLENTIFUL FOR COWETA COUNTY OFFICES

Senola, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Coweta primary comes off May 2. There are 2,800 registered voters and candidates are plentiful.

The race for the late Senator Bacon's place in the state election will be considerably in favor of Governor Slaton. As taking very little interest in the work of other state officers, all considering it too early in the game to give it much thought.

DR. HARDMAN LAYING PLANS FOR A STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN

Commerce, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Dr. L. G. Hardman's campaign for governor is taking definite and definite form. The tentative plans for an active campaign that will cover every nook and corner of the state are being formulated. A corps of stenographers is at work day and night answering letters and telegrams.

He has delivered speeches in several places in the state within the last ten days, but these have all made prior to his formal announcement. With the beginning of next week, he will get into the canvass in earnest. It can be safely stated that from now until the day of the primary he will neither eat any idle bread, nor allow any grass to grow under his feet.

An enthusiastic Hardman club has been organized here, with committees covering the various phases of the work of the campaign. Hardman clubs are being organized in all the adjoining counties.

HOLDER AND BELL TO FIGHT IT OUT FOR CONGRESS IN NINTH DISTRICT

Commerce, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The probabilities are that there will be only two candidates for congress from the ninth congressional district. Hon. Thomas M. Bell, incumbent, will be opposed by Hon. John N. Holder, of Jefferson, ex-speaker of the house of representatives.

Two years ago there were three candidates—Bell, Holder and Charters. In that contest, Mr. Bell received 11,400 votes, Holder 9,000 and Charters 5,000. Now that a three-cornered race seems to have been eliminated, the friends of the two gentlemen both claim that they will win.

Mr. Holder is a good stump speaker, and the same can be said of Mr. Bell. Both are good mixers. Neither has as yet made formal announcement. It is expected that Mr. Holder will announce formally within the next ten days. He is now in direct touch with the voters of all the counties comprising the ninth district, and is much encouraged from the reports brought to him through the mails.

PARK MAKING QUIET CANVASS IN RACE FOR STATE TREASURER

Jonesboro, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)

REALTY MEN FAVOR GRADY BOND ISSUE

Committee From Pan-Hellenic of Atlanta Visits Hospital and Says Improvements Badly Needed.

At a special meeting of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association, held at the chamber of commerce building, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the Atlanta Hotel Men's association heartily indorse the movement looking to the issuance of $750,000 bonds for the Grady hospital, and the support of this association and its members is hereby pledged to said movement."

There was enthusiasm at Grady bond headquarters yesterday when it was learned that the real estate board, after listening to a brief summary of a greater Grady situation by Bird Adams, had given its unqualified indorsement to the bond issue.

The real estate board is another of the civic organizations which are indorsing the bonds. A short time ago there were several such organizations. The Fulton County Medical society was against them. Labor was against them. Some members of the board of the hospital, itself, were against them. The Catholics were against them. According to the pessimists—and there never was a much-needed city improvement that didn't breed pessimists faster than a Florida swamp breeds mosquitoes—the bonds for Greater Grady didn't have a chance.

All indorse the issue. That was a week ago. Then the Fulton County Medical association gave the bonds its indorsement. The resolution to do so was unanimous. A few days passed and the Atlanta Federation of Trades upset the talk about labor being against the bonds by another unanimous indorsement. The members of the hospital board, to a man, registered their belief in the bond issue. Yesterday afternoon, the real estate board indorsed it.

Today the workers for the bonds can look at the records at headquarters with pride, and say there is scarcely a civic organization or faction of any importance whatever which has not put its official seal of approval upon the plans for a greater Grady. As for the supposed opposition, it can be located. The real estate board was supposed to object because it feared an increase of taxes. Whether it did not see Mr. Adams' talk calculated to dispel any such impression, anyone acquainted with the greater Grady plan knows that they entail no increase of taxes whatever. The bond issue includes $100,000 for pay wards. The receipts from this ward will be sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and meet them as fast as they mature. Mr. Adams pointed this out to his audience yesterday afternoon, and the result was not a denouncing ball.

Another remarkable feature of the campaign is the interest which the various women's organizations are taking in it. A special meeting has been called for 10 o'clock Monday morning in the University club by the executive committee of the Pan-Hellenic of Atlanta, a young women's organization composed of 400 representatives of college sororities. It must not be supposed that the young women are going to college now. All of them have graduated. A good many are even married.

Women Examine Hospital. A special committee of five looked over the hospital Friday afternoon. It consisted of Miss Elizabeth Kempton, Mrs. A. B. Elkins, Miss Elizabeth Hines, Miss Vee Strickland and Miss Hester Hill. The committee, after looking the ground over with Dr. Sumner, superintendent of the hospital, came out highly indignant. It was particularly exercised over the nurses' quarters—which actually are one of the most wretched features of the hospital.

"It's awful," said Miss Kempton, "for women to have to live in such places. To look at their living quarters, you'd think the nurses at the hospital had committed some crime and were being punished for it. Instead of being members of the noblest profession woman can enter."

NEW LOAN ASSOCIATION HAS SOME UNIQUE RULES

A new loan-association, to be known as the Co-operative Investment association, with a capital of $50,000, is being organized by J. A. Patterson and C. L. Boone.

A unique feature of this company's loaning plan is that personal indorsements will not be required of its patrons. In case of the death of a customer, if it should be found that his financial condition is such that payment of his obligation would leave those dependent upon him in destitute circumstances, the association agrees to cancel the loan.

Another feature is the non-assessment of a fine in case of a customer's sickness on the day a loan is due. A department of credit adjustments will be a prominent feature of the new organization.

CAMPBELL ON STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Camilla, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The case of state v. D. C. Campbell, charged with the murder of John Harrell, is still in session in Mitchell superior court. Almost the entire day was spent in examining witnesses for the defense. The feature of the day's session being the statement of the defendant, which was made late this afternoon.

The statement was clear and forceful and about one hour was consumed in its delivery. Immediately after the statement the state called more witnesses in rebuttal.

Court adjourned at 6:30 o'clock and convened again at 8 o'clock for a night session.

The case will probably consume most of tomorrow. The courthouse was packed with spectators today.

Great Opportunity Presented To Obtain Automobiles Free In the $25,000 Gift Contest

The Constitution believes that there are many people who are upon the lookout for an opportunity and who are alert enough to see and grasp it when it appears.

For this reason, a plan is presented in these columns, which affords just the chance these ambitious people want, and in which the benefit to those taking part is only limited by their own ability.

Appropriating over twenty-five thousand dollars to forward the contest, The Constitution proposes to distribute that amount in valuable prizes and cash through the medium of a great circulation campaign.

It costs nothing to try for any award.

No Restrictions. There are no restrictions as to territory or age. Any woman or girl can enter; or any man or boy can enter through some lady relative or friend. This makes the field open to all. Just simply send in your name or that of a relative or friend to the contest department of The Constitution. Where it is possible, a representative of the contest department will immediately call and give full particulars and instructions as to how to proceed. Where this can not be done immediately, return mail will bring direct information from this department.

The management of The Constitution is responsible for this contest and every promise and obligation made by The Constitution will be strictly adhered to, and the management will see to it that every candidate has an equal chance and square deal.

In numbers and value the awards offered to the public in this contest makes it well worth the while of any one.

All you have to do is to get votes, and votes come free with either old or new subscriptions to The Constitution. You can do this—it is all gain, no loss. Write to the contest department of The Constitution and particulars will be gladly furnished.

Nomination blank can be found on editorial page of this issue. NOW IS THE TIME TO BEGIN. Do not put it off until it is too late.

receiving the forces of Atlanta's fed-erated women in their work for the bond issue.

The number of women who have made a survey of the hospital since the campaign for the bonds was initiated has done much to create public sentiment in favor of the movement. Seeing is believing, and the maternal spirit of women has been appealed to, as they inspect the hospital, see the crowded conditions, the lack of adequate facilities. They see the few nurses there are, and the squalid place where they must get their only rest and the dark, badly ventilated place in which they have to eat.

There are not enough nurses to look after the sick, because there is no place for them to sleep. They must have comforts at least to give them the strength and rest that professional nursing requires.

Five Nurses III. Last week five nurses at the Grady hospital were ill from overwork and uncomfortable surroundings.

NOMINATION OF NEGRO CONFIRMED BY SENATE

Vote Forced on Terrell as Municipal Judge for District of Columbia.

Washington, April 24.—The nomination of Robert H. Terrell, a negro, as municipal judge for the District of Columbia, was confirmed tonight by the senate.

The nomination had been held up for two months, being vigorously opposed by Senators Vardaman, Smith, of South Carolina, and other southerners. Tonight senators urging confirmation declined to pass Terrell's name on the list of nominations and a vote was forced.

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

By One Who, From Her Past Experience, Is Capable of Giving Sound Advice.

Bud, Ky.—"I want to urge all weak women," says Mrs. Lizzie R. Barker, of this place, "to give Cardul, the woman's tonic, a fair trial, for I believe it will do for them what it has done for me.

I was a sufferer for 13 years, with such pains I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet. I had headache, dizziness and fainting spells.

After many treatments failed to help me, my husband persuaded me to give Cardul, the woman's tonic, a trial, and I did so. Now I feel like a new woman. I am well of all these troubles, and can do all my household work, with pleasure.

When I commenced taking Cardul, I was not able to sit up. Now I am enjoying good health and do all of my work.

I shall keep Cardul in my home all the time. There is not any medicine that equals it for women."

We also, urge you to try Cardul, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It has helped so many thousands of women in the past half century that we feel sure it will help you, too.

Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardul is the remedy for you to use. It can do you nothing but good.

Try it.

Just One Question: Do You Want Auto?

Do you want an automobile?
Do you want a piano-player?
Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.

The only requirement is to show a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for The Constitution.

It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.

Especially with the Mexican war on, they are after a paper that gives an accurate twenty-four hour news summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.

Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash prize.

EDUCATORS DISCUSS SCHOOL BOOK SYSTEM

Probable That Wardlaw Will Be New President of Association.

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Georgia Educational Association, which occupied the greater portion of the time of the Georgia Educational association today, C. R. McCrory, father of the plan to have the state publish its own textbooks for the schools, arguing in favor of the plan, while two of the best known county school superintendents in the state, Lawton B. Evans, of Augusta, and Otis Ashmore, of Savannah, opposed it.

Mr. McCrory charged that a "trust" controls the schoolbook supply and he called on the people of Georgia to shake off the shackles of the "schoolbook crowd."

"Georgia," he said, "is a juicy lemon for the schoolbook publishers."

He said that the state of Georgia could publish its own books at a cost of 4 cents, where it now pays 16 cents. His plan is to have the state do the printing and select the books from those submitted by Georgia authorities.

Otis Ashmore, in taking issue with Mr. McCrory, said he considered the value of the books more important than the cost.

"To buy the plates would cost $125,000 and to set up a printing office would cost $200,000 more," said Mr. Ashmore. "Why not let the regular book publishers bear this expense and let us select our textbooks from the world's best?"

Resolutions submitted. A resolution was adopted by the association, opposing the McCrory system and branding it as an unwise policy and a dangerous experiment to the state. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

Another resolution was introduced by J. C. Harris, of Rome, which allows the matter to rest just as at present, but urging the association to bear in mind the future, "when all textbooks will be furnished free by the state to every child attending the schools of Georgia."

Both resolutions will be reported on tomorrow morning.

The convention will close tomorrow at noon, following the consideration of the report of the resolutions committee and the election of officers. It is probable that Professor J. C. Wardlaw, of the State Normal college at Athens, will be elected president, succeeding T. G. Tolhull, of Louisville.

A movement will be started tomorrow to have the state purchase and establish in south Georgia. Tonight Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and Dr. H. Phillips, of Birmingham, were the speakers.

This afternoon the delegates witnessed a playground festival and were guests at a barbecue dinner at the "at home" at Mercer university and a picnic-supper at Wesley college.

BIBLE PLAY TO OPEN AT ATLANTA ON SUNDAY

The much-talked-of photo-drama of "Creation" is to be given to the Atlanta public at the Atlanta theater, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and continuing twice daily at 3 and 8 p. m. until May 24. The production is being financed by the International Bible Students' association. It is composed of more than 500 telephoto scenes, and the entire production, consuming nearly eight hours in the production. It is shown in four parts of about two hours each, and is said to be educational, historical and biblical. There is no admission charge.

SAVES HER BABY BY HURLING IT 25 FEET

Warren, Pa., April 24.—Mrs. W. O. Kney saved her infant from possible death or injury by a runaway team today, when she hurled the child away from the path of the horses.

When the team, which was pulling a wagon, started to run, Mrs. Kney, who was standing by the side of the wagon, threw the child into the air, where it landed safely.

The child, a boy, aged 5, was talking to Mrs. Kney, who was caught by the flying wreckage and dragged some distance, receiving facial injuries.

EXCITED BY A RUNAWAY SHE FORGOT HER $200

Wolford, N. D., April 24.—When Mrs. J. Knowlton was thrown from a carriage in a runaway she became so excited that she forgot all about her handbag, containing $200, and it was not till two days later, when A. J. Lowe, of this city, returned the bag to her, that she was aware of her loss.

MEASURES TO DETECT INCOME TAX DODGERS

Washington, April 24.—Measures to detect income tax dodgers have been initiated by Commissioner Osborn of the internal revenue office. He called on all corporations and joint stock companies for lists of their stockholders with the amount of dividend received by each during the year 1913, covered by income tax law, and for the names of all officers and employees receiving salaries high enough to bring them within the operation of the law. These reports will be used in checking up returns.

Hammer Two Tech Twirlers to All Corners of the Lot—Play Double-Header Today.

By Michael Cody, Jr.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., April 24.—(Special.)—Alabama overwhelmed Georgia Tech here today in an avalanche of runs and hits and stolen bases. The visitors used two pitchers in a vain attempt to stem the tide, but the Crimson lads were smarting under the double defeat handed them by Georgia, and fell on both without mercy.

This much may be said for the Tech pitchers, however, errors by their teammates aided very materially in piling up the score.

The visitors started off with a rush. In the first inning, after Wooten had filed out to left, P. Montague hit one to deep right center and scored on Johnson's single to left.

Alabama came back strong in her half. Wells and Sewell walked, and Crawford hit one to right for three bases, scoring both runners.

Tech blew up in the third. Joplin hit to second and Crawford hit a ball in front of the plate which bounded up and hit him and he was out. Hagan hit one to left for one base, and Cargyle scored. Hamilton hit to left for two bases, scoring Hagan. Ladd hit to first, who tried to catch Hamilton at the plate, but both men were safe.

Alabama scored again in the fifth on a three-bagger by Stevenson, walk by Wells, an error by catcher and a clean hit by Sewell.

Tech scored in the ninth on a three-bagger by Johnson and a single by Pount. A double-header is scheduled for tomorrow. Smith and Hogue will probably work for Alabama.

GRUELING
Lookouts and Crackers
In Gruelling Tie Game;
Tommy Long Gets Spiked

By W. G. Foster.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 24.—(Special.)—Darkness ended another gruelling battle between the Crackers and Lookouts in the eleventh today with the score tied at 2 and 2.

Both teams left the field with a feeling that they should have won. Atlanta had the greater number of opportunities to score, having thirteen men left on bases, but Chattanooga's chances were the most promising, especially in the ninth, when the locals pitched on second and third with one out.

The contest abounded with brilliant fielding, critical situations and excitement of every baseball variety. The Atlanta infield saved the Chattanooga infield persecuted Fox for both of Atlanta's runs, on the gruelling game, catches in the outfield by Jacobson averted at least two if not three Atlanta tallies.

Long Badly Spiked.

The game may cost the Crackers the services of Tommy Long for several days. Long was spiked on the hand when he pitched in the third inning, and the wound became so painful that he left the game in the fifth. The spikes cut an ugly gash in the player's right hand and tore two nails completely out. Kirch scored on Long's muffed ball, and Jacobson scored on Long's muffed ball.

Manager Smith made a shift in his batting order, sending Holland to third in place of Lynch, and batting him second, moving Jennings to fifth and dropping Flanagan below the catcher. Reynolds' catching was good, all the steals of his delivery being on perfect pitches. Kirch succeeded Long and helped the cause with a pinch hit. McConnell's brilliant playing at second base featured the play of the Crackers. He killed a hit by Graham in the third, and a great stop. A single by Johnson and Coyne's pinch single followed, showing that the stop saved at least one run. In the second-sacker's ten chances were difficult, and he covered acres of territory.

The first local run was made on Johnson's double and Coyne's single. Flanagan's throw to the plate was poor.

Jacobson's Catches.

Jacobson was the hero of the day for the locals. He put them ahead with a homer in the fourth over the fence. In the fifth, Holland lived on Grace's poor throw. Welchone singled.

Annapolis Today—Have Road Games All of Next Week.

Athens, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The University of Georgia left here yesterday morning for Annapolis, Md., where they will play the Navy one game Saturday.

This game will be the first game of seven-games and trip the team will play through the south Atlantic states, covering a week.

On Monday, April 27, they will play the Maryland Agricultural college at College Park, Md., one game. On Tuesday, April 28, they will play the nine from Washington and Lee will be their opponents at Lexington, Va. The Washington and Lee baseball nine is considered as being the strongest team in the south Atlantic states, and will probably win the championship.

The games of the road trip will be played at Chapel Hill, N. C., with the University of North Carolina team as opponents.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock, a half an hour earlier, and will be sent in detail to Callers King's place in Atlanta.

GAME AT 3 O'CLOCKThe Final Chattanooga-Atlanta
Game Play by Play at 9
Viaduct Place.

The final Chattanooga-Atlanta game at Chattanooga today will be given play by play and ball by ball at the viaduct place, at 3 o'clock.

The game will be called half an hour earlier to allow the Atlanta team to catch a train for home, which will get them here at 5 o'clock or shortly thereafter.

Good crowds have been attending the details and enjoying them as all fans do who have heard Mr. King in action. It is just like watching the game and just as interesting. The exciting moments are just as exciting as a regular ball game.

Comfortable chairs, plenty of room, an up-to-date scoreboard, plenty of light—in fact, everything that goes to making the day an enjoyable one will be offered.

The admission fee is 25 cents. Rain checks are issued with each ticket. If it rains before four and a half inches are played, the tickets will be good at any game during the remainder of the season.

TECH HIGH SWAMPED
BY G. M. C. PLAYERS

Taking advantage of the numerous times Tech High players bobbled the ball, and making opportunistic hits, Georgia Military college defeated Tech High yesterday afternoon at Ponce de Leon by the score of 15 to 10.

Tech High made eleven errors during the game, besides pulling a number of bone-head plays.

The game commenced as if it was going to be a desperate pitching duel between Parks and Camp, as neither side sent a runner across the pan in the first three innings, and G. M. C. had only secured one hit off of Parks.

However in the fourth inning, Tech High players proceeded to take an aerial ascension and G. M. C. making five good hits, coupled with four costly errors by Tech High, succeeded in sending eight men across the rubber.

Both sides used two pitchers. Tech High pitched Parks through the fourth inning, when Smith relieved him, while Camp pitched seven innings for G. M. C. and Gheseling twirled the remaining two.

Tech High was away off in their playing and had they not made so many costly bobbles, the game would have undoubtedly been a good deal different.

This game was the first game of a three-game series. The other two games will be played in Milledgeville, on May 24, a double bill being scheduled.

WILLARD AND RODEL
ARE BOTH CONFIDENT

Jesse Willard, the 250-pound heavyweight, who meets George "Boer" Rodel at the Orpheum theater, Tuesday night, declares that he will stop the Australian and South African champion in about seven rounds.

"I know that the Boer will give me a heap of trouble in the early rounds. I have boxed him twice, and I realize that he can travel as fast a light-weight for four or five rounds. But I don't intend to box him like I did in our first affair, when he earned a ten-round decision.

"Instead, I will go in and slug with him, as I did in our second fight, and stop him in nine rounds when I mixed it with him.

That's Willard's prediction.

Here's what Rodel says:

"That big stiff landed a haymaker, a most lucky one, in our second mill. I had Willard reeling all over the ring like a drunken man when he pulled a right from the floor. I made a mistake of stepping away to avoid it instead of stepping inside of it.

As a result of not stepping back quite far enough he clipped me on the chin.

"My play of battle next Tuesday night is to outpoint Willard for about seven rounds, prime him for the old slugger and then shoot over the top right on his jaw that was ever land.

"Promo Castro has promised to give the inner Gunboat Smith during the 8th round. Well, just go place all you've got that I will be the man who will mingle with the champion in May.

Castro has practically arranged his entire card and expects to be able to announce it within the next twenty-four hours.

Tickets go on sale this afternoon at the Tumlin Bros. stores and the Rex. Ringside seats will cost $2, the entire lower floor $2 and the balcony $1.

In New York city the prices for this same bout would range from $2 to $7.50.

CHI PHI MEDICAL FRAT
BANQUETS AT WINECOFF

The eighty-six members of the Sigma chapter Phi Chi medical fraternity of the Atlanta Medical college held their ninth banquet last night at the Winecoff hotel.

Toasts were responded to by J. Q. Folmar, Dr. A. B. Elkin, Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, Dr. E. Thrash, Dr. C. W. Strickler, Dr. L. E. Clarke, Dr. J. E. Paulin, Dr. L. M. Gaines, Dr. C. E. Boynton, Dr. E. G. Jones.

Dr. Ferguson acted as toastmaster.

Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, president of the faculty, in speaking of the Atlanta medical college, said that the school was founded on the requirements that however wealthy it became in profits, the entirety of it must be used in teaching medicine.

"This is the only medical college in America," said he, "that without a big endowment has been able to equip its various departments without outside help. It has done this by having had it in for us in making requirements which they themselves did not understand. However, we have met every requirement within six months' time.

BLOOMER GIRLS PLAY ATLANTA FEDS TODAY

"La-d-e-s and gentlemen, the battles for the game will be Misses Cunningham and—

Can you imagine Lou Castro lifting you from that new bald pate of his, using his voice to a shrill pitch, and yelling to a horde of hilarious fans a song and dance, beginning along the above lines? Not that the count isn't strictly on the job as an umpire, or that he would not prove the real thing as a beau brummel umpire, for anything from a contest in, fancy needle work to referee of a tango match, but it certainly will sound funny to hear the count edge in that "Misses" into his spiel.

Well, that's just what he will be expected to do this afternoon at Ponce de Leon park, when he steps out to announce the batteries for the game between the Star Bloomer girls of Indianapolis and the Atlanta Federals, a fast local aggregation.

You may have noticed that you have never heard a man criticized for keeping his mouth shut.

gation of amateurs and semi-professionals. It has been practically agreed that Castro will umpire the game, and the warring forces are ready for the charge.

The women players will use Margaret Cunningham, their southpaw hurler, against the local cracks. Pitcher Cunningham has been saved up for this game, and she and her teammates are confident that she is going to hang crepe on Joe Smith's tribe of ball tossers.

Furthermore, the visiting athletes firmly believe that they are going to play with Golden, the Federal pitcher, when he faces them. They point to the fact that they have played some of the fastest amateur and semi-professional teams in the country, and have won more than thirty of fifty-odd games.

This game will be something different from any baseball shows here this spring, and will doubtless draw a large crowd, curious to see just what the girl players can do. Neither the Crackers nor the Jackets appear here today, and they expect to play to a good crowd of spectators.

AMATEUR LEAGUES
OPEN SEASON TODAY

Amateur baseball in Atlanta will get a good start this afternoon, when two of the stronger leagues in the city play their initial games. The two leagues that will play this afternoon are the Sunday School league and the City league.

The Sunday School league this season is operating a double section league, with six teams in each section. The section of the league is divided into North and South Sides. The schedule as adopted by this league provides for fifteen games to be played by each team, that is, each of the six teams in each section will play the other five three times.

At the end of the season, which will be August 1, the most season series will be arranged between the two winners to determine the champion of the league.

The City league has secured six of the fastest teams in Atlanta to play with them this year, and the class of ball that they will put up should be very good. A schedule as adopted by them provides for three rounds of play also. Here are the games scheduled for play today:

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE.
South Side.
S. V. D. v. College Park at Kirkwood.
Holy Innocence v. Park Street at S. W. Piedmont.
Capitol View v. Kirkwood at Piedmont plaza.

North Side.
First Baptist v. Central Congregational at N. E. Piedmont.
St. James v. Jackson Hill at Machinery Hall, Piedmont.
Central Presbyterian v. Aggas at St. James.

City League.
Crane Co. v. Murray at S. E. Piedmont.
Standard Oil v. National Union at S. W. Piedmont.
Texas Co. v. Western Electric at Tenth and Boulevard.

MRS. MARY R. LOGAN
DIED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Mary Redding Logan, 82 years old, one of Atlanta's best beloved women and a pioneer of the city, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 423 Peachtree street.

The funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist church, the services being conducted by Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor, and by Dr. A. M. Hughlett, of St. Mark's church. Until 11 o'clock this morning the body will be at the undertaking establishment of Barclay & Brandon. At that hour it will be removed to the home of a son, Frank Logan, 196 Juniper street.

Mrs. Logan was the daughter of the late Colonel Anderson W. Redding, of Harris county, who was one of Georgia's best known men and a leader in the affairs of his section. She married James L. Logan, who after the war was a successful Atlanta business man.

For many years after her marriage Mrs. Logan was prominent socially in Atlanta. She was a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy and of the Pioneer society. For forty years she had been a member of the First Methodist church and for nearly forty-seven years she had been living in Atlanta.

She is survived by two sons, Frank R. and James L. Logan, one brother, Colonel R. J. Redding, of Griffin, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Sapp, of Texas.

Just One Question:
Do You Want an Auto?

Do you want an automobile?
Do you want a piano-player?
Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.
The only requirement is to show a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for The Constitution.
It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.
Especially with the Mexican war news summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.
Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash prize.

Sensational Allegations Involving State Mutual Officials and Judge Maddox Made in Suits.

Rome, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Sensational allegations are contained in suits filed in Floyd superior court tonight by Mrs. Lula Curry Porter against the State Mutual Life Insurance company and D. W. Curry, and also in suits against the State Mutual Life Insurance company and Walter S. Griffin, of Greenville, S. C., by Mrs. Belle Vernon Porter.

Mrs. Lula Curry Porter is the wife of Charles R. Porter, former president of the State Mutual, and D. W. Curry is her father. She alleges that on November 22, 1912, she deeded her handsome suburban home to her father, and that on the same day he transferred the property to the State Mutual, the two being parts of the same transaction. She states in her petition that the officers of the State Mutual charged that C. R. Porter, her husband, owed the company large sums of money, approximately $100,000, and through its president, John W. Maddox, was threatening criminal prosecution of Porter unless the money was paid.

She avers further that these threats of prosecution went so far that she became greatly worried over the matter, especially when Maddox, who was on the bench of this circuit, had procured the services of the judge of an adjoining circuit, and had grand and trial juries drawn and a special term of court called to institute such proceedings. She says this state of affairs was held over Porter to coerce and compel him to submit to the demands of the company, and that she consented to allow her home conveyed to the company to meet these demands.

Charges Law Was Evaded.
She charges that the insurance company agreed to this, but knowing that it could not secure a legal title from her, it being against the law for a married woman to sell her property for her husband's debts, they had her transfer her home to her father, and he to them, whereupon the company agreed to drop criminal prosecution.

She asserts that the company be therefore enjoined from disposing of the property, and Judge Wright will hear reasons as to why the injunction should not be made permanent on May 7.

The same allegations in effect are made in the petition of Mrs. Belle Vernon Porter, wife of J. C. Porter, brother of C. R. Porter, and former vice president of the State Mutual, except that the value of her home is set at $10,000, and W. S. Griffin, a son-in-law of D. W. Curry, was the intermediary. This case is also set for preliminary hearing on May 7.

"False," Declares Maddox.
Judge Maddox denounces as "unqualifiedly false" the allegation that he was directly or indirectly concerned with the alleged agreement to compound any felony, but says on the other hand that he repeatedly refused to become party to such agreements. He says further that the company will have a complete answer at the hearing on May 7.

Georgia Society Hopes FOR PEACE IN MEXICO

Able Address Delivered Friday Afternoon by Professor Arthur D. Call.

After listening to an entertaining lecture by Professor Arthur D. Call at the Piedmont hotel on Friday afternoon, the Georgia Peace society considered and adopted two resolutions.

One expressed the hope that the United States would be able to solve the Mexican problem without resorting to war.

The second urged the schools, churches and other civic institutions to observe May 15 as Peace day and to observe it with appropriate celebrations.

Dr. J. J. Hall was chosen as delegate to represent the Georgia society at the national peace convention in Washington on that date. Dr. John E. White introduced the speaker of the afternoon.

Professor Call, executive director of the American Peace society, declared that if the present strife with Mexico had broken out ten years ago, Atlanta would have been aflame with excitement, whereas at the present time this city seems to be viewing the matter conservatively.

"Military institutions belong to a past civilization. They are unreasonable," he said. "The states of this country do not fight each other; they have a substitute—national legislation. So we must, sooner or later, have international legislation. War never yet proved a truth."

Shriners Have Ball To Help Raise Funds For Big Convention

Some three hundred guests were present last night at the ball given by the Shriners' patrol at Taft hall to assist in raising funds for the entertainment of the visiting Shriners in May. The Shriners were out in uniform with their lady friends and the entertainment did much to promote enthusiasm in the coming convention. Refreshments were served.

TROOPS TO MOBILIZE AT FORT IN FLORIDA

Pensacola, Fla., April 24.—(Special.)—Definite instructions were received by the commanding officer of Fort Barrancas today from the war department to prepare for 4,000 additional men at the post, who will be sent here immediately and the Atlantic seaboard for mobilization. These are all regulars and are coming from many states. Information was also asked if a suitable place could be secured for the mobilization of three or four brigades of national guard and volunteers.

HARDWICK RAPS SLATON IN OPENING ADDRESS

Has Little to Say About Felder, But Goes After the Governor.

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—In opening his campaign for the United States senate at the opera house here tonight at 8:30 o'clock, Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick made the declaration that the Slaton campaign for the senate has collapsed; that there is no Slaton band wagon now, and Slaton's friends are carrying the war cry: "All aboard to the convention and save us there." He says the governor's one hope is to "hitch onto the coat tails of some good candidate for governor" as his last salvation.

The public records of Felder and Slaton were both compared with his own, but specific attention was paid to Slaton, and especially to the statement of W. S. West, which, he said, has not helped Slaton.

"Certainly," he said, "the people of the state of Georgia are not going to elect two men from Atlanta to the United States senate on the same day." Hardwick says his campaign will be based on four points: Fitness and qualification of the candidates; public record of each and his training and capacity; services rendered to the people and the party; the course each would follow in the senate, if elected.

More Money for Roads And Less for Repairs, New Auto Club's Slogan

"More money for roads and less for repairs" is to be the slogan of the Automobile Club of Georgia in a long and determined campaign for good roads throughout the state.

Plans for the campaign were made last night by the club at a "good roads" smoker held in the rooms of the M. & M. club, Candler building. Several hundred automobile owners, the majority from Atlanta, but a good many from other cities—for the automobile club covers the entire state—listened to addresses from George D. McCutcheon, president of the club; W. T. Winn, county commissioner, and Charles L. Davis.

Club a Necessity.

Mr. McCutcheon called attention to the necessity of a state automobile club, both as a protection to the automobile owner and an instrument with which to secure needed improvements.

"The membership of this club," he said, "is growing rapidly. There are 24,000 owners of motor-driven vehicles in the state of Georgia, and while we can't expect to enroll them all, we ought to enroll every one who ever takes his car outside the town where he bought it. As a matter of fact, we ought to enroll them all. Every automobilist is interested in preventing the passage of unjust laws. The Automobile Club of Georgia stands for that. We believe in good roads and we think Georgia ought to have them. To the automobilist, good roads mean the difference between getting over the ground cheaply and swiftly, and stopping at every village for repairs. County Commissioner W. T. Winn reminded the club that the American Roads Congress—the most important good roads organization in America—would hold its annual convention in Atlanta the week of Nov. 2. The club passed resolutions to co-operate with the county commissioners in entertaining the three thousand members of the congress expected.

Want State Highway Commission.

Another resolution was passed endorsing the legislative efforts for a state highway commission, and pledging the support of the club. The organization also went on record as in favor of a higher automobile license, provided the property tax on automobiles were remitted and the proceeds from the increased license fee expended for better highways. It was here that there cropped up the slogan of more money spent on road improvement meant that much less for car damages.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a statewide committee on organization, composed of one member from each county in Georgia. The members appointed are Dan S. Walraven, W. C. Mahoney and W. T. Winn, all of Atlanta; C. H. Caldwell, of Bainbridge, and J. H. Whiteley, of Warrenton. The work of broader organization will begin at once.

FIRST TO ARRIVE WILL BE CARUSO AND FARRAR

They Will Reach Here Saturday Afternoon—Scotti Is Due Sunday.

Geraldine Farrar and Caruso, both of whom sing Monday night, will be the advance guard this year of the Metropolitan song birds. They will arrive at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Terminal station, over the Southern railroad, on the regular train. On Sunday afternoon, at the same hour, Scotti and William J. Guard, the publicly representative of the Metropolitan, will arrive.

Two special trains, carrying the remainder of the singers and the conductors, will come in over the Southern railway Monday morning, April 27, at about 7 o'clock. Mme. Gadsby, Cris-tall, Gortz, Gilly, Deseguro, Ruy-dael, Leonhardt, Rothier, Reiss, Rosli, Reschiglian and Bada, Mme. Ober, Duchene, Sparke, Case, Ponia, Matt-feld, Hobson, Braslau, VanDyck, and Conductors Hertz and Hagerman, Berger and Marie Rappold will follow, arriving early in the week.

The two big special trains which arrive Monday morning will also bring the orchestra, ballet, business force and a great part of the stage settings and scenery.

The sale of tickets at Phillips & Crew and Cable Piano company will continue at those two places up to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which hour the downtown sale will be permanently closed. On Monday morning the sale will reopen at the Auditorium box office at 9 o'clock, and tickets will be procurable only at the box office from then on through opera week. All persons who have made reservations and have not yet taken up their tickets will have to do so by noon this Saturday, and in the event of their failure to do so the tickets they reserved will be put back in the pot.

While the Music Festival association is not yet ready to give out definite figures, the sales are known to be ahead of this same time last year, and indications are that there are good prospects for breaking all the records of past years.

COLORED MINISTERS INDORSING CLEAN-UP

The African Methodist Episcopal Ministers' association, at a meeting held Tuesday, adopted resolutions commending the clean-up propaganda of the city and calling upon all the members of the parishes to assist.

Waycross Trainman Hurt.

Waycross, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Falling between two freight cars at the Terminal station, over the Southern railroad, on the regular train. On Sunday afternoon, at the same hour, Scotti and William J. Guard, the publicly representative of the Metropolitan, will arrive.

The sale of tickets at Phillips & Crew and Cable Piano company will continue at those two places up to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which

She Saves Her Two Children After Being Bitten Herself By Rabid Dog at Her Home

Bitten by a rabid dog, Mrs. H. H. McCowan, who lives on Marietta road, saved her two children yesterday morning by bundling them into her arms and carrying them away from the house in which the dog had run.

Both Mrs. McCowan and her husband were bitten. Mr. McCowan is an official of the Electric Construction company. The animal's head was cut off and carried to the Pasteur Institute, where it was found to have been rabid. The dog was a collie pup. Mrs. McCowan had discovered it wandering on the roadside, and, out of pity for it, had taken it into her home to feed it. Barely had she carried it into the house before the animal developed symptoms of madness. Mr. McCowan, who sought to throw it into the yard, was bitten on the wrist. The dog jumped at the wife, biting and scratching her on the hand.

The children were in the room. As the dog ran wildly in their direction, the mother grabbed both in her arms and rushed them into the yard. The dog was then killed by Mr. McCowan.

CRUISER MARYLAND SAILS FOR MAZATLAN

San Francisco, April 24.—The cruiser Maryland sailed at 11:31 a. m. for Mazatlan, on the Pacific coast of Mexico. The warship had 2,000 tons of coal, a full store of ammunition, a crew of 700 and a company of marines aboard.

SEN. ROOT IS ATTACKED AT CANAL TOLL HEARING

Called "Leader of Forces of Monopoly" in Letter in Record.

Washington, April 23.—A storm of protest was aroused in the senate to-day after Senator Poindexter had read

It referred to Senator Root as the "leader of the forces of monopoly to wrest the benefits of the canal from the people."

Senator Root's friends resented the introduction of the letter in Senator Root's name and called it a New York senator took the floor in his own defense. He said that he never had any communication with railroad men, and that he was not a member of the Senate. He said that he was not a member of the Senate. He said that he was not a member of the Senate.

His advocacy of repeal, he said, was based on the firm conviction that the United States had committed to a course of action that would dishonor its name. He referred to the "peace endowment in spreading broadcast similar views on the same subject, and the duty of men of power to lead the people to the truth."

I spoke the convictions of my life, declared Senator Root, "when I spoke the truth to the people. I only wish repeal of toll exemption. I only wish

The words I uttered had been more compelling, that they might have carried more weight, if I had said that the senator from Washington cannot by any side approach, or devious way of condemnation, drive me off the field of my right as an American citizen and as an American senator of the United States, to say what I believe to be for the honor and good name of the country we love."

In reply Senator Poindexter said he had no desire to put in the Record anything reflecting on any senator.

Referring to the attitude of the Carnegie endowment on the tolls question and of the wealth which he declared was "sucked from the American people on a watertight market," Mr. Poinsett said.

"Mr. Carnegie has spent a great deal of money for peace, but his endowment, instead of bringing harmony between this and other nations, has increased the number of international conferences of even greater consequences."

SEED AND PET STOCK

H. G. HASTINGS & CO.
SEEDS, PLANTS AND POULTRY SUPPLIES.
BELL PHONES: MAIN 2568, MAIN 3862.
ATLANTA 2564.
15 WEST MITCHELL STREET.

THIS is sure enough gardening weather. It is perfectly safe to plant out even the tenderest vegetables of plants. Every season we have a large stock of the greenhouse loaded with fresh nice tomato, pepper, egg plants, etc. Our plants are not transplanted and are stocky and well rooted. Prices: Tomato, 18 cents per dozen; peppers and egg plants, 25 cents per dozen.

POLICE and court treatment in the store and prompt deliveries has been a great help in building up the Hastings business. Our clerks are polite and courteous and have had experience enough to be able to give customers service as to what are the best varieties of vegetables and flowers to plant. These things coupled to the fact that we handle the very best grade of seeds that can be had, has enabled us to build up the largest seed business not only in Atlanta, but the entire south. Few people are so well equipped with the business we have and lots of Atlanta folks send their orders for seeds and plants to out-of-town houses that are not as large as Hastings and certainly no more reliable. We specialize on things that are best adapted to this climate and are in a position to give you better service than any other house in the south. We are in the position to give you better service than any other house in the south. We are in the position to give you better service than any other house in the south.

$5 & $6 Brand New Blouses $2.69

385 in all, shown today for the first time. The maker moved, but he didn't move the blouses—one quick loss for him settled any question of worry and damage in moving.

—Eleven different styles, chiefly of white crepes and voiles. Many are hand embroidered; nearly all have the new gussets and Japanese shoulders set in with entree work.
Every new style touch is shown—if not in one blouse, then surely in another.

—To these blouses we add a number of lace and net blouses from stock formerly $5.95, $6.50 and $7.50, which will also be $2.69.

(Second Floor.)

50c Ribbons 39c Bewitching Styles for Bows & Sashes

A H, the beauty of them!—
from crisp taffetas that reflect the colors of Nature's palette.
Gorgeous flowers blossom bravely in tropical colors; dainty buds peep forth demurely; Oriental floral patterns open one's eyes to new beauty in ribbons. A bewitching style is a light warp print with colored picot edge; another ribbon has border in the new futuristic colorings. All of these chiefly for sashes and trimmings. Six inches wide.
A smart hair ribbon of satin or taffeta is in solid pink, blue or white, beautifully broadened. Five inches wide. Choice for Saturday,

SAVANNAH SOCIETY HOLDS STREET DANCING CARNIVAL AND FLORAL PARADE FOR DRAINAGE CONGRESS DELEGATES

FLORAL PARADE IN SAVANNAH.

Savannah, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—
In connection with the fourth National Drainage congress Thursday afternoon and evening was staged one of the largest and most spectacular floral parades, street dancing fetes and confetti carnivals ever witnessed in the south. The parade was viewed in the loughly Walke, who was grand marshal of the parade; the national guard of Georgia, stationed at Savannah, and was followed by Savannah's magnificent automobile fire department. Owing to the crisis in Mexico, the warships which had been expected were unable to come. There was a magnificent display of beautifully decorated automobiles.

The street dancing at night, however, proved to be the feature of the carnival. The night session of the parade a brilliant color effect. In the drainage congress was abandoned on account of this feature. Hundreds of young couples took advantage of the unique privilege. A section of Bull street, abutting on one of the public squares, was reserved for the dancing;
the street being closed to traffic and roped in. Spectators were confined to the sidewalks and squares. All dancers were required to unmask and city detectives were on hand to see that no improper characters were allowed to dance.

Simultaneously a great street masquerade was in progress on another thoroughfare. The street was given up to them from 8 o'clock until midnight. Everybody wore masks and costumes. The regular lights, several headlights and arc lights and 800
Japanese lanterns were strung along
the squares and in the trees in the

The streets were brilliantly lighted.
In addition to the regular lights, several headlights and arc lights and 800
Japanese lanterns were strung along
the squares and in the trees in the square, with two rows between the squares and State streets on Bull tribe of Red Men and the Eagles turned out in force, as did also the Doyles, while a dozen boy clowns added much to the merriment with the antics.

Five hundred red fuses gave the parade a brilliant color effect. In the drainage congress was abandoned on account of this feature. Hundreds of young couples took advantage of the unique privilege. A section of Bull
street, abutting on one of the public
squares, was reserved for the dancing;
the street being closed to traffic and roped in. Spectators were confined to the sidewalks and squares. All dancers
were required to unmask and city
detectives were on hand to see that
no improper characters were allowed to dance.

FOUR COUNTRIES OFFER TO MEDIATE TROUBLE

representatives of the Mexican constitutionalists resulted in the dispatch to General Carranza of a telegram by the latter strongly advising him to remain neutral and assuring him that the American government intended to withdraw its forces from Mexico just as soon as Huerta had made satisfactory reparation for offenses.

The advice given Carranza here was that by assuming a hostile attitude he would draw all Mexico into a war; Huerta would be perpetuated and the constitutional cause lost.

Four countries, among them France and Spain, came forward with inquiries to the United States about possible means of mediation between the Huerta government and the United States, but Secretary Bryan said these advances could not be described as "overtures" and he was inclined to attach little importance to them. The position of the American government is firm, that an offense against its dignity and national honor has been committed and that it must enforce reparation from Huerta.

Signs of uneasiness abroad because the United States, though not having declared a blockade or a state of war, is exercising jurisdiction at Vera Cruz between measures "short of war" and actual war became apparent today. Cabinet officials said no attempt would be made to interfere with the regular channels of commerce anywhere, cargoes being allowed to land at all points. Munitions of war alone will be held at the Vera Cruz customs house, if landed, provisions and other commercial supplies not being detained.

ARMY AND NAVY CONTINUE PLANS.

But outside of the diplomatic branch of the government the army and navy continue plans for holding Vera Cruz for the care of refugees, for the provisioning of American forces and for the maintenance of a strict border patrol, not only to prevent raids and uprisings, but to keep all factions in Mexico from obtaining munitions, ammunition and arms. The war department continued its plan for mobilizing regulars and volunteers, should the president call for them. Army transports, hearing infantry and artillery, sailed from Galveston to reinforce the naval forces at Vera Cruz.

The sporadic outbreak at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, where the evacuating federals burned the town and fired across the American border, was not unexpected, but it was significantly pointed out by officials here that the American troops returned the fire merely in defense of the international line and did not become the aggressors.

Congress still talked about Mexico.
Senator Lodge read a long telegram from many prominent persons, urging an inquiry into the Mexican situation before war was declared. Representatives, hearing the chairman of the house committee on appropriations, asked the president if he wanted any "war appropriation" and Mr. Wilson replied, "Not as yet."

Secretary Garrison is virtually without funds for the particular moves of the army now being made, but he is drawing on the future. It is a violation of law for the war department to incur any obligation without authorization by congress, but Mr. Garrison smilingly said he had "faced jail" several times in the last few days on this account. Leaders in congress have assured him they would back him up in the present emergency. The president has hesitated to approve any request for an emergency appropriation for the war department for fear it might be interpreted as a forerunner of war.

declared or a state of war existed. The American government holds that its seizure of the customs house is in accord with international precedent as an act of reprisal. No blockade has been declared and no interference with commerce will be attempted.
The German vessel that carried the shipment of arms, which it was feared might reach Huerta, has landed its commercial cargo, but the captain of the vessel, for reasons of his own, has not put the ammunition ashore. The United States forces at Vera Cruz have made no effort to prevent its landing.
The accepted theory here is that the ammunition was not landed because the certainty that it would not reach the consignee if deposited in the Vera Cruz customs house. American naval officers will not interfere with the interior shipment of cargoes, but will collect the customs and hold them until reparation has been made for all offenses.

TO TAKE POSSESSION OF RAILROAD TRACK.

At the war department Secretary Garrison spent most of his time arranging for the departure of the Fifth infantry brigade from Galveston, commanded by Brigadier General Funston.
The order for the movement was received by the chief of the quartermaster's corps at 9 o'clock last night, the property and troops loaded throughout the night, steam gotten up and the fleet put under way with thirty days' supplies within a period of eighteen hours. No cavalry went today, but a regiment, probably the Sixth, will be detached on the next transports. No accommodation for the cavalry was possible on the ships which departed today. The artillery taken was equipped with rapid fire guns and field pieces of the mountain type and pack animals. The disposition of the forces on arrival at Vera Cruz has not been determined. It is virtually certain a movement will be begun on their arrival to take possession of twenty-seven miles of the railroad system. In all, about 4,000 troops will reinforce the five thousand and upwards of marines and bluejackets.

The navy department again was a center of intense interest, dispatches from the fleet being looked for expectantly there throughout the day. Secretary Daniels gave most of his time to arranging for the departure of American refugees. Most of the Americans at Puerto Mexico are aboard a Hawaiian-American steamship, anchored there, while the British cruiser Berwick was ready to take on more.
The gunboat Nashville has gone to relieve the congestion there. No news of an official character of the interruption of the Tehuantepec railroad had been received, but American warships are at Salina Cruz, and at its terminus,
ready to take on refugees.

Just One Question: Do You Want an Auto?

Do you want an automobile?
Do you want a piano-player?
Do you want to work for real money, without the risk of drawing a blank?

The Constitution offers the opportunity.

The only requirement is to show
a little energy in securing subscribers to The Constitution.

It is easy to find circulation for
The Constitution.

It is the only morning paper in its field.

People today want a morning paper as never before.

Especially with the Mexican war on, they are after a paper that gives an accurate twenty-four hour news summary.

The Constitution is the one paper in the southern field that complies with these conditions.

Working for a paper of this nature, you have an A-1 chance of winning an automobile; a player-piano; a cash prize.
